Special Session (SS22) on:
Poverty and social exclusion in the peripheries

Organizer:
Eszter Siposné Nándori - University of Miskolc, Hungary. Email: eszter.sne.nandori@uni-miskolc.hu

The purpose and scope of the special session
Processes leading to the current situation in underdeveloped regions situated far from the centers of economic development often make it almost impossible to catch up with center regions because of the vicious circle of regional backwardness. Peripheries are often characterized with multiple socio-economic disadvantages: low rate of economic development is usually connected with high unemployment and inactivity rate, high poverty rate, low level of education attainment and a high rate of emigration.

All papers are welcome describing socio-economic problems of peripheries, including but not limited to monetary poverty, material deprivation, labor market disadvantages as well as good practices of catching up with center regions.
